

Oguz Sariyildiz

Oguz Sariyildiz is Graduate Research Assistant at Kentucky State University. His graduate works involve with water quality and vegetation change in coal mine areas in eastern Kentucky. His thesis covers temporal land, vegetation change and water quality in mined and mined watersheds. He completed his BS degree in hydrogeological engineering at Hacettepe University, Turkey. His research interest are hydrology and hydrogeology applications of GIS and remote sensing in environmentally impacted areas.